

The 2008 Homearama in Full Swing at Country Brook North

By Jenny Diorio, President
Home Builders Association of Dayton

Since 1977, the Home Builders Association of Dayton has presented 30 Homearama shows. That's 32 years of showcasing beautiful homes creatively designed and carefully crafted by more than 70 HBA Builder members. That equates to over 300 state of the art, trend leading show homes being toured by nearly 750,000 Homearama attendees.

Historically the top four builders, R.A. Rhoads, Homes by Bill Simms, R. L. Diorio Custom Homes and Gold Key Homes have combined for 73 of the homes. The show has been a great hit the public, home buyers and the builders.

This year's Homearama adds to the legacy, the four magnificent million dollar homes were built by very proven builders including R. L. Diorio Custom Homes, Daniel DeVol Custom Builder, Fortress Homes, and Traditional Custom Homes.

The reasons for the allure of this year's Homearama homes are their size (they average over 7,500 square feet of finished living space); their architectural diversity (from classic contemporary to Colorado Rockies lodge); and their wonderful finishes and amenities.

Nothing has been left to the imagination in the homes of Country Brook North. Every detail –from the color of the grout used with ceramic tile to the placement of every piece of art – has been carefully thought through and executed.

One goes through a Homearama house the first time to get the "big picture." The second time through, one notices the "little things" that make all the difference in the world.

Finally, the homes of Country Brook North offer state-of-the-art technology, and feature out door living spaces surrounded by lushly designed landscapes.

If you are like almost everyone else, of course, you are in the market for something more modestly-priced than the Homearama houses at Country Brook North.

Having said that, Homearama can also serve as a one-stop idea and design center as you (a) prepare to remodel your existing home or (b) begin the process of building a new home. Whether you are looking for the perfect master bedroom design, cabinet and countertop ideas for a remodeled kitchen, or ways you can use landscape design to improve the curb appeal of your current home, Homearama is the perfect place to visit.

To help you even more, this year's Homearama will also offer free seminars on various topics such as the current real estate market, current mortgage products, energy conservation by Vectren, and home automation and theaters. Also stop by and see the Gardens Galore! area and see, touch and feel some great landscaping ideas for your home.

So make your plans to attend the 2008 Homearama. A schedule of events and preview of the show with other information on the show is available at www.HBADAYTON.com.

See you at Country Brook North.
